

Do you want to work on the future Knik Arm Crossing?

You are invited to join the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), Alaska Department of Transportation & Public Facilities and the Knik Arm Crossing project team to learn about the project and types of skills you would need to be involved with construction of the future Knik Arm Crossing. Also hear from local organizations regarding training opportunities and what resources are available to you.

Come find out how to prepare for being involved in the workforce for 2010!
